

Gallery Resources celebrate anniversary with expansion

Gloucestershire recruitment agency mark a double celebration

Gallery Resources, the county's leading marketing and design recruiter is commemorating its 10th anniversary with a move into brand new purpose built offices and, due to an increase in business, the appointment of two new members of staff.

The firm's new offices are based at the Waterfront, Stonehouse's newest business park.

Experienced consultant Matt Cooper, from Bristol, joins the team, bringing with him over seven years of recruitment experience with a previous background in marketing.

The firm has also employed Lisa Haywood, who will be assisting the office manager in a role seen by management as integral to the running of the business.

Set up by husband and wife team William and Joanne Snell, the company now employs a team of seven.

Director Joanne Snell says: "The new premises are much bigger than our previous site at 1,820 sq ft and far more contemporary. We haven't lost the rural surroundings though; the team has already named two of our friendly sheep and a couple of the ducks."

Co-Director William Snell added: "Not only should clients and candidates find the surroundings more comfortable, but with the area in which we place candidates growing, it is important that we have good transport links and modern facilities in-house.

"Moving closer to the M5 should make things easier for those who are traveling from further afield, and the space means we've got space to grow in the future." concluded William.

ENDS

23 May 2008