Local Company Celebrates Decade of Success

A specialist recruitment agency, based in the Stroud area, is this month celebrating its tenth anniversary.

Gallery Resources specialises in placing people in marketing, communications, creative and studio roles, and in both permanent and temporary positions. Steady expansion over the last ten years has resulted in a large and wide-ranging client base... from large government organisations and multi-national companies, to small one-person design agencies. From its base in Gloucestershire, the company services clients both locally and throughout the UK, with a particular focus on the South West, South Wales, the M4 Corridor / London and the Midlands.

The company was the brainchild of Directors Joanne Snell and William Snell. Both had recruited through agencies in the past and had recognised the potential for a more targeted approach than was currently available. Using their experience of working in the marketing and advertising industry, the company was launched by Joanne in early 1998, with William joining soon after.

Initially, Gallery Resources worked solely with ad agencies but the team broadened their expertise in 2001 to include the wider communications, creative and marketing industries and the public sector. William Snell, Director of Gallery Resources, commented: "At Gallery Resources, we work with the full range of industry professionals – from the most junior up to Director level."

From their base in rural Gloucestershire, the company has experienced steady growth over the last decade – last year's turnover was £1.4 million - and they are planning for similar success in the future.

Ends.
